INDUSTRIAL POWER LIES IN WORKERS

Natural Laws Applicable to Labor Says Noted Speaker.

BIG ROTARY MEETING

"Every man is an untapped reservoir of power. Industry's problem lies in the release and guidance of that power."

Such was the keynote of a vigorous and informative address given Tuesday night by John Leitch, of Narberth, internationally known authority on the problems of industrial co-operation.

Mr. Leitch was principal speaker at the monthly evening meeting of the Bala-Cynwyd-Narberth Rotary Club, attended by nearly 50 Rotarians and guests. His subject was made applicable not only to production problems, but to every phase of human conduct.

The speaker drew on a wonderful fund of experience and philosophical study for the points in his address. The Seven Natural Laws, unknown to the greater part of the audience, formed his point of approach.

"Thirty years ago," he said, "when I first became interested in industrial democracy as a life work, I sought for the basic theme on which to attack the problem. I had been told that all human activity was based on natural law, but found that such law was easy to talk about, but hard to define."

"I went to the faculties of Harvard and Yale, and asked them to teach me the natural laws. They spoke glibly enough of the laws, but could not define them. Finally an East Indian prince, turned philosopher, taught me these laws."

"They are not included in the Mosaic commandments, for these laws are negative. The seven natural laws are positive, and govern every object—every action, in the universe."

The speaker then went into the definition of these laws and gave their application, not only to industry, but to every man's life. As an introduction he quoted the statement of Supreme Court Justice Brandeis that the 360,000 Federal laws could be wiped out if natural law was followed.

"The first of these laws," he said, "is the law of order. Before a goal can be sought, you must be in order and the objective must be clearly in mind. Napoleon said, 'Never let a battle interfere with a campaign.' The final goal must be known and kept in mind."

"The second is the law of analogy. All things are related, including, of course, capital and labor, and to be successful this relationship must be constructive. The one penalty in the universe is misuse."

"The law of sequence is the third. You cannot, if walking to a point, take your second step first. Everything must be done in its proper order, without skipping or deviation. An office boy may aspire to be president, but he must not break the proper sequence of steps to reach that goal."

"The law of rhythm is the fourth. Noise, confusion and discord are an evidence of waste. The sun turns the earth on its axis and swings it about on its orbit—all without noise or friction. That is rhythm—harmony."

"The law of opposites is the next. Everything, as we know, has its opposite. Light, dark; wet, dry; hard, soft; good, will; ill will; harmony, discord. To cure an ill we must not try to eradicate the ill—rather must its opposite be set up and the

He had been a resident of Narberth for more than 10 years, and had served several terms as borough auditor. He was employed by the Philadelphia National Bank.

He is survived by a widow, Cecil Riley Bartlett; two children; a sister, Mrs. Frank Connelly, of Ardmore, and a brother, Albert Bartlett.

CABARET-DINNER-DANCE AGAIN ON CALENDAR

Popular Event to Be Repeated by Women's Club.

The Board of Directors of the Women's Community Club, with the Hospitality Committee as accomplices, have cooked up a plot to be sprung on Saturday, January 15, at 6.45 P. M., in Elm Hall. There is truth, as well as poetry, in the full flavor of those phrases, for those ladies are going to cook another Oh-So-Good dinner to be served as above noted. Moreover it is to be a cabaret-dinner-dance, with most entertaining numbers and the same syncopating instrumentalists that proved so popular at the similar affair last month; also with card tables for the less nimble.

The board say that they can serve only 150, but don't let that be a discouragement; a waiting list can be arranged. However, let it be a warning to hasten to send your reservation, accompanied by check at $1.25 for each and every, to Mrs. H. A. Jacobs, Box 979, Narberth, before Wednesday, January 12.

The Community Club, by meeting jointly with the League of Women Voters on January 4, secured a doubly interesting afternoon. Mrs. Slaughter, agent for the Mothers' Assistance Fund in Montgomery County, spoke of the purpose and extent of her work and begged support for an increased appropriation.

Mrs. Herman Schwartz, vice president of the Pennsylvania League of Women Voters, told why Pennsylvania politics is especially interesting in this legislative session when the spotlight of the country wide observation glares upon the State. Mr. Warwick James Price interpreted the inner significance of many recent national and international events and made some prophecies for the next year.

Tea was served by the following committee: Mrs. H. B. Speed, chairman; Mrs. J. W. Darville, Mrs. George Gilpin, Jr., Mrs. C. F. Haist, Mrs. H. C. Fenn, Mrs. W. E. Boryer, Mrs. J. A. Hongler, Mrs. B. E. Achenbach, Mrs. Stanley Diefendorf, Mrs. C. A. Farmer, Mrs. E. H. Cockrill.

Take note of the Mothers' Council meeting announced for the evening of January 10.

MRS. WILLIAM H. COLEMAN

Mrs. Margaret Todd Coleman, wife of William Hoyt Coleman, passed away in her sleep early last Saturday morning at her home, "Fernbank," 409 North Narberth avenue. Mrs. Coleman, who was 85, had resided in Narberth for 15 years.

Funeral services were conducted by the Rev. John Van Ness from the funeral parlors of Charles M. Stuard, Ardmore, at 4.00 P. M. Sunday. Burial was in Woodlawn Cemetery, New York.

Beside her husband, who is a member of the editorial staff of the County Gentleman, she leaves two children, Miss Laura B. Coleman, of Narberth, and a son who resides in Albany, N. Y.

MRS. HARRIET L. GREGG

Mrs. Harriet Louise Gregg, widow of William J. Gregg, died in the Hahnemann Hospital Wednesday after a long illness. She was 84, and had resided in Narberth over 12 years.

She is survived by two daughters, the Misses Grace and Ethel Gregg, both of Narberth. Funeral services will be held at 2.30 this afternoon from the parlors of Oliver Bair, Philadelphia. Services and interment will be private.

The public and parochial schools are again in session after the Christmas vacation.

STRONG BY-LAWS FOR ORGANIZATION

Narberth Board of Trade to Work for Good of the Town.

OFFICERS ARE ELECTED

A new organization began its career in Narberth last week. Organized on Monday, December 27, the Narberth Board of Trade begins the new year with a program of activities designed to improve and co-ordinate Narberth's business life.

Officers were elected and a comprehensive set of by-laws put in effect. Chris Koch, druggist, was elected president; William H. Fowler, local manager of the Merion Title and Trust Company, vice president, and Postmaster J. Bertam Nesper, secretary and treasurer.

The purpose of the new Board of Trade will be "To advance the commercial and civic interest of Narberth; to promote just and equitable principles in business, and to assist and co-operate with the borough authorities in enforcing laws and ordinances and to promote any project having for its purpose the betterment of the community as a whole."

Thirty-three business men were in attendance, and consumed an excellent supper served by Marios Chios in the Y. M. C. A. building, loaned for the occasion through the courtesy of H. T. Nash, Jr.

The entire business part of the meeting was taken up with problems of organization. Dues were fixed at $5 per year, and over 20 of those present signed up to the time of the meeting. Passing reference was made to several of the projects brought up at past meetings, but serious action will be held over until the next meeting.

The regular time of meeting has been fixed as the fourth Monday of each month. It is probable that the January meeting will also be preceded by a supper, plans for which will be announced at a later date.

All business men of Narberth are eligible to membership and are invited to attend the next meeting, whether or not they receive a notice. The secretary is working on a list of merchants to be notified, but it is probable that some will be skipped at first.

The following were present at last week's meeting:

Fred Walzer, John A. Miller, B. G. Constantine, James R. Cole, George R. Markle, Henry T. Nash, Jr., Wynnefield H. Cook, E. H. Davis, John F. Hart, Philip A. Livingston, Harry B. Wall, Harvey A. Cook.

E. H. Wipf, M. Freeman, J. B. Nesper, Vincent Mariani, Louis Ricklin, Thomas C. Kerrigan, J. Paul Shea, Charles Hewitt, J. L. McCrery, J. Baird Caldwell, Robert W. Caldwell.

Marios Chios, M. Cooper, William H. Fowler, C. H. Crane, Chris Koch, Ralph S. Dunne, Joseph Adelizzi, George M. Dando, N. R. Peacock, Taylor Henry.

This is your paper, and your advice is appreciated.

Township to Follow Narberth by Enacting Zoning Ordinance

After three years of work and discussion, Lower Merion is about ready to follow Narberth in the establishment of a Zoning Law. This, when enacted, will have an effect upon those parts of Narberth community lying without the borough limits.

The final report of the Lower Merion Zoning Commission, which has been promised for the past half year, has been completed and on Monday, this report, in the form of a recommended ordinance, was filed with the township commissioners. On Wednesday evening, at their first meeting of the new year, the township fathers took preliminary steps to enact this ordinance into law.

After Commissioner Andrew MacDonald, a member of the Zoning

EASTERN SCHOOLS LOSE RULE FIGHT

Defeat Ends Re-instatement Hopes of Lower Merion Athletes.

KILL STRICTER RULING

All hope of reinstating the Lower Merion High School athletes lost in football, soccer, baseball and other sports through the Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association's eight semester ruling, fell with a crash when that body met at Harrisburg during the Christmas vacation. It was chiefly due to the western section change of the rule was vetoed.

The clash of the eastern and western sections proved an interesting one, but the west supplemented by superior numbers, easily voted down all substitute proposals for the present enforced ruling. Opposition to a still stricter enforcement of the rule was made from the district by Superintendent S. E. Downs and Principal C. B. Pennypacker, of Lower Merion; Mr. Taylor, of Norristown; Mr. Rowland, of Radnor, and Mr. Tyson, of Upper Darby.

The western section, in a desperate effort to clear itself of "loaded" teams, stuck firmly to the rule now in action.

Apparently, athletics in the western sections have been on a very low par and the drastic enforcement of the eight semester ruling will undoubtedly clear up and raise the standards of the west to near those set by the east.

Official pictures of the football, hockey and soccer teams have been put on display at the high school. Copies may be had of each for $1.25 apiece.

Lower Merion High School writing paper is also being sold by the Athletic Association at the price of $1 per quire box. Each sheet of paper has the engraved school seal at the top. The paper is sold in two forms: flat and folded sheets.

Student Council will begin to function regularly next Monday morning at 9.30 sharp. The presidents of the senior and junior classes, the president of the Athletic Association, room leaders and leaders in various clubs are members of this council, which is presided over by Principal Pennypacker. Problems concerning school activities, school work, school government and school welfare are generally discussed. Many improvements have been the result of the Council in the past and its influence is felt throughout the entire school year.

The opening of the new cafeteria has proved one of the features of the school day. Hot and nourishing foods are supplied the entire school at the luncheon hour, due to the modern cooking appliances installed. It was designed by cafeteria experts and is up-to-date in every detail.

ANNUAL MEETING

The Executive Committee of the Main Line Federation of Churches has announced that the fifteenth annual meeting will be held on Tuesday, January 11, at 8 P. M., at the Friends' Meeting House, Haverford.

$21,697,859 IN ESTATES

Harry W. Akins, clerk of the Orphans' Court, completed a resume of the business transacted during the year 1926 before Judge William F. Solly:

The total amount of estates audited and distributed reached to the sum of $21,697,859.58, embraced in 542 accounts audited and confirmed by the Court.

The Court appointed 244 guardians for minors and heard 21 petitions for adoptions. Trustees were appointed in 30 estates.

There were 11 cases on the argument list and 409 letters of administration were issued and 638 wills admitted to probate.

CHAIRMEN MEET

County League Plans to Attend Inauguration.

A most interesting meeting of the Chairmen of Boroughs and Townships Montgomery County League of Women Voters was held at 1735 Spruce street, Philadelphia, on Monday morning, January 3. Very favorable reports were received from seven districts represented and an announcement was made of the League benefit to be given by the Lower Merion Township League on January 5 and 6.

A letter was read from Mrs. John O. Miller, State Chairman, calling attention to the facilities of the League Headquarters in Harrisburg and the desirability of members making reservations there to attend the sessions of the State Legislature, also announcing luncheon and tea service on the day of the new Governor's inauguration, January 18. County Chairmen were requested to follow up those candidates who, between the primary and the general election did not reply to the League's questionnaire, and try to get their attitude on the subjects of the fee system, the election laws, and the direct primary.

The speaker for the meeting was Mrs. Herman L. Schwartz, who presented in her usual interesting way a few points of President Coolidge's annual message; then spoke of the incoming Governor's cabinet and possible appointments and of some of the problems before the State Legislature.

The meeting closed with a most excellent resume of events of world note by Mrs. E. C. Batchelor, of Narberth, Chairman of International Relations.

MOTHERS' COUNCIL

The Mothers' Council will hold a very important meeting in the Junior High School, on Monday, January 10, at 8 P. M. At that time, Miss Kevorkian, the health teacher, and Miss Church, the instructor in physical training, will confer informally with the mothers on conditions existing among the children who come daily under their observation.

Once people felt that educators dealt with minds only but now every one realizes that a child's mind can function only as his physical condition permits. As most defects are easily corrected if recognized early, such a conference as this should be most helpful.

All mothers of the community are urged to attend. The council wishes only to help and not to place any obligation upon those who take advantage of the opportunities it presents.

WOMEN'S AUXILIARY WEDNESDAY

The first meeting of the new year of the Women's Auxiliary of the Narberth Presbyterian Church will be held Wednesday, January 12, from 10 to 4. Luncheon will be served at 1 o'clock. Boxes will be distributed at this meeting to be returned in November to take care of special donations at that time of the year.

Wanted—at least 75 ladies to attend this meeting.

BOYS' CLUB—BENEFIT

On Wednesday, January 12, the Narberth Boys' Club will hold a benefit in the Ardmore Theatre. The picture will be "We're in the Navy Now," starring Raymond Hatton and Wallace Beery. Tickets may be secured from any member of the club, a few of whom are George Burgess, John Eidenberg, Matthew Callahan and George Torchiana.

1000 MEMBERS SET AS COMPANY GOAL

Continued High Efficiency of Fire Department Is Necessary.

CAMPAIGN THIS MONTH

An intensive membership campaign is under way by the Narberth Fire Company. The entire month of January has been set aside for the purpose and an effort will be made to have every home in the borough represented on the list of members.

The campaign is being conducted under the enthusiastic direction of ex-Postmaster Fred C. Patten, a member of the Finance Committee. Mr. Patten plans to do a great deal of personal work in canvassing and enlisting interest, and is backed by the entire company.

Circulars, in the form of a letter to the residents, are being distributed throughout the borough. The letter calls attention to the value of the company and requests contributing memberships, costing only $3 per year.

The letter follows: "The Narberth Fire Company is to have a membership drive during January, 1927, in which time they hope to bring the membership up to 1000."

"Is there any reason why every family in Narberth should not have a membership in the Narberth Fire Company?"

"Consider the protection they receive on the lives of their family and property."

"This true, you can buy financial protection with insurance, but without the efficient service of a thoroughly equipped and well organized fire company, your premiums on the policies would greatly exceed a membership fee and being insured does not save the lives of your family."

"Narberth has the distinction of having one of the best equipped and well organized volunteer fire companies in Pennsylvania composed of 32 active volunteer firemen, ready to be at your service at any time of the day or night, to protect your home and family from fire."

"The fire company wishes the moral support and co-operation of every one in this community and wants every one to feel that they have a part in the good work, by taking out a contributing membership card costing you $3 per year, if you are a resident of the Borough of Narberth."

"The active firemen respond to calls at all hours, in all weather and at considerable sacrifice and risk."

"Membership cards may be obtained at any of the three Narberth drug stores or at the fire house."

"Contributing membership costs you $3 per year, no entrance fee and no assessments and confers all privileges and exempts the member from the responsibility of answering alarms."

"If you are not already a member, encourage the active members by becoming one."

"Let's make it 100% in Narberth."

WILL TALK ON CRUISE

On Tuesday evening, January 11, at eight o'clock in St. Paul's Lutheran Church at Ardmore, Robley A. Warner, of Narberth, will give an illustrated talk on his recent cruise of the Mediterranean and overland tour of Europe, including the cities of Madera, Spain, Gibraltar, Northern Africa, Egypt, the Holy Lands, Turkey, Greece, Italy, Switzerland, France and England.

Many interesting slides have been secured as well as a number made from personal films.

The evening's entertainment will be under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society of the church. Light refreshments will be served, and a silver offering will be requested at the door.

IELDS—PEARCE

Mr. Harry C. Shields and Miss Edith L. Pearce, both of Philadelphia, were united in marriage on Friday evening, December 31, 1926, at the parsonage of the Narberth Methodist Episcopal Church by the pastor, Rev. W. S. Dawson.

A SIMPLE DUTY

In big drives, much advertised, the duty of the individual is brought to his attention forcibly. We are used to these intensive, professionally operated campaigns.

The Welfare Federation has made its appeal—so has the Red Cross. Neither is a local body, but both are entitled to Narberth's support.

But more intimately, and more urgently, from a local standpoint, comes the request for proper support of the Fire Company. Just now they are soliciting 1000 contributing memberships from the Narberth district—surely a reasonable goal in a town of 1500 families and more.

In these columns, from time to time, we have discussed the work and finances of our local volunteer organization. They have bought new apparatus; have worked hard to keep insurance rates down; have kept to a point of efficiency which makes a bad fire almost an impossibility.

It is unfair that the company should have to struggle along on the income from a comparatively few members, who alone seem to realize the financial obligations of the citizens in maintaining this important protective group.

Do not wait for some one to ask you. A check for $3.00 (small enough, surely) might well be mailed tonight to the company, or, if you prefer, to "Our Town." We will see that the membership is properly recorded.

Do not let this campaign be a disappointment.

The Value of Bathing

Frequent bathing, using a good neutral soap, is one of the best habits that can be cultivated.

Much of the waste matter of the body is thrown off through the pores of the skin where it remains until washed away.

Soap and water in themselves will not kill disease germs, but they will wash away the dirt which harbors disease germs, and in this way tend to promote good health.

HOW TO USE CHRISTMAS TOYS

Library Book Gives Suggestions on Problem.

Such a deluge of gifts comes to little children at Christmas time as almost to overwhelm them and the problem soon arises for themselves and their parents how to get the most use out of each gift. One of the new books at the Library in the Children's Department, while intended to be just a delightful book for the little folks' reading, is full of suggestions.

This book is called "The Toy Shop" and is written by Maud Lindsay for children of the ages of four to seven. The print is good and the illustrations are very bright and colorful. It is a series of happy stories about children and their playthings told in simple fashion. The fantastic personification of toys is avoided; toys are just toys and the experiences related are those which could happen to any child, and there are many suggestions which would be helpful to mothers.

This, however, is incidental. The aim of the book is to give pleasure to children and arouse their understanding and sympathy. One of the most charming stories is of a little boy who had a much desired horn for Christmas and was not permitted to sound it for quite some time. The story is enough to make any adult resolve never to have another headache.

This book and the others listed below have been very popular at the Library this past month.

"The Toy Shop," Maud Lindsay.

"The Boy With the United States Marines," Rolt Wheeler.

"Uncle Sam's Sailors," Fitzhugh.

"The Last Lap," A. A. Knipe.

"The Red Badge of Courage," Stephen Crane.

"Child Life in Colonial Days," Earle.

"Ye Little Salem Maids," Mackie.

"Dr. Dolittle's Caravan," Lofting.

"Winnie-the-Pooh," Milne.

"Tales From Silver Lands," Finger.

"A Tenderfoot with Peary," Borup.

"Winona of Camp Karoyna," Widemer.

"A Magician of Science," Hammond.

"Book of Plays for Little Actors," Johnston.

"Stephen of Philadelphia," Otis.

SKATING ON MAIN LINE

Over last week-end more than 400 skaters enjoyed the pastime at the Merion Cricket Club pond, and many more covered Haverford College lake. The rise in temperature this week marred the sport to some extent.

DOG LICENSES

A notice has recently been issued by T. E. Munce, State Veterinarian, at Harrisburg, to the effect that all dogs six months old or over must be licensed, license to be procured on or before January 15 of each year.

Applications should be made to County Treasurer direct or through a notary public, justice of the peace, alderman, or magistrate. Owners are warned that they will be held responsible for any damage caused by their dogs.

LEADERS TO CLASH

INDUSTRIAL EXPERT ADDRESSES ROTARIANS

ill will disappear. Coming into a dark room we do not shovel out the dark—we turn on the light.

"The sixth is the law of cyclicity. All things work in cycles. Everything that goes forth from one comes back inevitably. An evil deed may have its recompense in the far future, but it is there. The universe is on the square, and justice, though not apparent, is working.

"The final law is that of balance. As everything has its opposite, so is everything balanced, and the seeking of that balance is one of the keys to success."

Power and the use of power was the theme which tied together the application of these laws. The speaker told of how this theme was working in many industrial plants to reduce friction, waste and loss.

After the talk was concluded many questions were asked on the specific application of this philosophy of natural law. Mr. Leitch was given the closest attention, and the greatest expressions of appreciation so far accorded any speaker before the club.

Before the formal address a number of visiting Rotarians were introduced and made brief remarks. They were W. Russell Green, of Narberth; George Smith and John Gessler, of Philadelphia; George Painter and Aubrey Delaplaine, of Cynwyd—all members of the Philadelphia Club. Two Ardmore members were present, Clifford A. Rogers and John Albrecht, and Dr. J. W. Vansant, of Jenkintown.

Two new colors were added to the club—gray and white. The new members are Rev. Frank M. Gray, of Cynwyd, and Joseph P. White, of Narberth. In addition, there were over a dozen non-Rotarian guests.

James E. Carroll, chairman of the Business Relations Committee of the club, was in charge of the meeting, and received unqualified praise for the success of the largest gathering in the history of the local club.
